

Cast for THE ALIENATED

Angela Ramey has been involved with theatre since a young age. She studied in NYC and earned her B.A. in Theatre from the UW-Madison. Habitually active in her community theatre scene, Angela is the Vice President of the non-profit group, THEATER AVANTGARDE. She is grateful to Ansley for casting her in her first film project. Angela resides in Appleton, WI with her husband Eric.

David Oliver originally intended a career in theatre before he realized that so did millions of others. He trained at the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York and at Second City in Chicago. David is on the board of directors of Attic Theatre where he also acts and directs.

M.J. Marsh is a native of Appleton. He taught Improv at the Renaissance School for the Arts for four years. He loves root beer and edamame. He would like to thank Allen, the cast and the crew for the great time! I still believe!

Joshua Cobbs received his degree in Theatre Arts from the University of Iowa and has since been acting on stages all over the US and the UK. He has had a blast with this improv film project and is extremely grateful for the chance to be involved. Thanks to Ansley and the cast for all the laughs. Thank you Angela for being a life-altering saint! Much love to my recently expanded family...Ben, Harper, Ramey and Bubs!

Gary Zurbuchen is a veteran actor who has appeared in numerous stage dramas, comedies and musicals. He has done TV commercials, industrial videos and modeling for print advertising. He also has several independent films to his credit.

Christina Lavicka is the proud mother of her 12 year old son, Austin. Besides substitute teaching (all grades/ subjects) for the Appleton School District, Christina writes reviews for The Performing Arts Center and other Fox Valley Businesses at www.thecommunitypage.com. TV and theatrical performances are on her list of extra curriculars. This summer she will be in Attic's production of The House of Blue Leaves.

Dan Onkels has been seen in several community theater productions as well as Murder Mysteries, radio and television commercials. He loves the lime light as well as orange, red and black lights. Dan was honored and excited to be included in this production.....until he saw himself for the first time on the BIG screen. Now he's having second thoughts. (A very funny guy.)

Sindee Kleckner is no stranger to acting, in fact people say she often pretends to be someone other than who she is. Her favorite part was as the 8 month pregnant bridesmaid in Tony 'n Tina's wedding. Being pregnant allowed her to eat for two, without having to go through childbirth. She prefers improv to stage acting, because quite frankly - memorizing lines sucks. In addition to long walks on the beach (etc.), her favorite things are garlic, polar fleece, and post-it notes.

Dayton Kane has taken on great roles like Hanz (Hanz and Franz) and Phatima (yes, he dressed in drag) in school talent shows. He was also in the Wolf River Theatrical Troupe of New London's production of "12 Angry Men." He also tries to act cool every day on 95.9 KISS FM from 10am-2pm.

Kurt Kolosso's love of theatre began when he auditioned for a role as a flying monkey in Menasha High School's 1982 performance of The Wizard of Oz. The lack of flying monkeys in the theatrical version dashed any hopes of furthering an acting career. When not in prison, he's usually up north, with a hunk of birch bark on his head drinking Pastis and playing petanque.